THE HOLIDAYS AT JOHN WANAMAKER'S

CHESTNUT, THIRTEENTH AND MARKET STREETS,

AND CITY HALL SQUARE, PHILADELPHIA.

THE HOLIDAYS.

There is nowhere in Philadelphia so varied a collection of rich goods as here—such as fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters lovers, look for a little later.

GIFTS.

To buy Holiday Gifts early is good advice: The best trade is early; and the best trade carries off the best things.

JOHN WANAMAKER. There is an endeven of Gifts. Our collection suppose, even for a less frugal city than Philadelphia. These goods are are now at the height of their glory. The choicest of them are here; others will come of course; but the choicest are going.

What is equally to the purpose, buyers are now about as many as can be comfortably served, and the throng will be denser every fair day till Christmas.

ADIES' ULSTERS.

There are two general styles, one closed at the back, the other open; the latter is known ascoachman's style. In detail of trimming there is great variety though there is also marked simplicity. Great variety in cloths too. $6.50 simplicity. Great tactory of the basis of $25.
Cloaks, foreign and home-made. Our collection is unprecedented, whether you regard variety, quantity or value. A lady who buys a cloak of any sort in Philadelphia without looking these over misses the best assortment, perhaps, in the whole country. $6.50 to $250.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Southeast corner of the building. Misses' coats in more than 70 cloths, shapes and decoration beyond counting.

A LFRED WRIGHT'S PERFUMES.

A HIS Mary Stuart is probably the most lasting of all the agreeable perfumes; none of the foreign ones approach it. It is very rich, strong and full of life; it is agreeable to more persons, probably, than any other perfume, Wild Olive is next in popularity; this also is singularly powerful and lasting. White Rose is delicate and lasting.

We keep the preferred odors of all the first-class perfumers, such as Lubin, Bailey, Atkinson and Condray; but of Alfred Wright's we keep all.

Bring an unverfumed handkerchief; and you shall have a sample of any odor you wish.

Mr. Charles Stewart, son of the handsome Mrs. Mackintosh Stewart, of Philadelphia, and Miss May Drexel, daughter of the well known banker of that name. When Miss Minnie Gorges, of Staunton, Va., heard L. P. Benjamin, the solo cornetist of a visiting minstrel troupe, perform, she fell madly in love with him.

Opposition was useless, and after a betrothal of two hours they were married. Although he has never married, Hon. Aleck Stephens likes ladies' society and has many friends among them, who call frequently upon him in his parlors at the National hotel. He is possessed of a wonderfully cheerful spirit for one who is so frequently ill, and who perhaps, rarely knows what it is to feel really well.

The daughter of Mr. Burch, the secretary of the Senate, who was married on Nov. 30 to Mr. Warner, of Nashville, was so unfortunate on her wedding trip to the latter city as to have her trunks burned. All her wedding presents and elegant troussean were in them. The railroad will pay the estimated value in money, but that cannot make good the loss.

Judge Porter, the governor elect of Indiana, will be married on January 5, to Miss Stone, of New York. The marriage will take place at the elegant residence of one of the lady's relatives in that city. She is wealthy and has a summer residence at Chatauque Lake. She met Judge Porter at the Riggs house here when visiting Register Scotleid's family. The match is eminently a suitable one. She is greatly esteemed by all who know her. The marriage that was announced with no little flourish in the New York papers few days since of Capt Arthur Cecil Fleming, &c., &c., &c., to the Lady Buckley Matthew, is the third marriage con-tracted by Lady Matthew, who was in her youth well known in New York society as Miss Ida Gerard daughter of the late eminent lawyer, Mr. Janes W.
